To Banish Ugly Hairs
(Aids to Beauty)

No woman is immune to superfluous growths, and because these are likely to appear at any time, it is advisable to always have some delicate powder handy to use when the occasion arises. A paste is made with some of the powder and water and spread upon the hairy surface. In about 2 minutes this is carefully removed and the skin washed. You will then find that your skin is entirely free from hair or fuzz. Be sure, however, to get real delatone.

William Martin of Danville, who has been employed in a munition factory in Canada, has enlisted in the United States naval reserve and is stationed at Newport. "Big Bill" is a baseball pitcher of year's service. He is not yet 21 years of age.

Conductor Frank Preston has left the service of the Shore Line Electric Railway company.

John C. Milton of Providence visited friends in Danielson Wednesday.

Wheat Sown.
William S. Brown has three acres of wheat sown on his farm near Waureson.

Danielson boys who have been at Camp Gordon, Ga., in training through the winter, are on their way north, it is announced in mail that has been received here.

Wealthy Slow About Bond Buying.
Liberty bond subscriptions continue to pile up in the town of Killingly, but the list of buyers does not include the names of a considerable number of persons who are in a position to buy the government with their money.

The new automobile fire truck that is to be added to the Danielson department is to be equipped with a locomotive boiler and a water tank.

Miss Frances A. Frchette of Fall River visited friends in Danielson on Wednesday.

Stimulating Bond Buying.
"Mr. Congregationalist" is invited to buy a bond for country and for church by the notice displayed on the bulletin board on the lawn at the Congregational church.

"Burst water pipes continue to give trouble to the local department. A heretofore severe winter that has gone into history.

Residents who live on the highway leading from Killingly (South) to the Line store are appealing that something be done to improve the condition in which the severe winter has left it.

To Register Youths of 21.
Arrangements will be made in this town to register the young men who have turned 21 since Jan. 1, 1918. The same procedure of registering will be followed as was the case last year.

The collector George Williams has put out his notice relative to the collection of town taxes in accordance with the vote recently passed at the annual town meeting.

No Trace of Conductor's Body.
Although the wreckage on the railroad near Pomfret has been entirely cleaned away, no trace has been found of the body of Conductor G. W. Rockwood, listed as among those who lost their lives in the frightful accident. It is believed that the body was entirely consumed.

Leave of Absence Forms.
The local board has received leave of absence forms that are to be used in releasing from service men who are allowed to come back to perform farm labor during the summer months, after which they will return to their commands.

Home Guard Order.
Captain F. O. Armstrong of the Danielson Home Guard company has issued the following order to the members of the command:

Every member of this command must attend regular drills Tuesday evenings at 8 o'clock. Club or motion pictures will not be considered a reasonable excuse for absence.

Captain Armstrong also requests an expression of opinion from the men regarding the changing of the hour of drill from 8 to 7.30, which will give a little later a chance for out-door drill in daylight.

Captain Armstrong states that the need for a home guard is not over; in fact, conditions in Canada would show that this country may need such organizations as the home guards and it is up to the ready, by getting all the drilling it is possible to receive.

OBITUARY
Mrs. Arthur G. Bill.

Mrs. Lillian E. Bill, wife of Judge Arthur G. Bill, died at her home on Maple street, Wednesday morning at 1.30. Mrs. Bill had been in a critical condition for several days prior to her death and has been in uncertain health since September, 1916, when she suffered a shock.

Mrs. Bill was born in Pascoag, R. I., September 25, 1856. She was the daughter of Nelson and Alinda Chase. She came here with her parents as a little girl and she studied in the schools of this town, graduating from Killingly High school. Later she attended a school at Holyoke college, in those days a seminary for young ladies.

At the Congregational church here on August 11, 1881, she was united in marriage to Arthur G. Bill, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Francis Williams, who for a period of fifty years was pastor of the Congregational church at Chaplin, where Mr. Bill founded the church.

For a time prior to her marriage Mrs. Bill taught school at East Killingly and at Brooklyn. She was a member of the Westfield Congregational church of Danielson, a member of the Ladies' Reading circle and of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, an organization to which she directed valuable attention.

Mrs. Bill leaves her husband and three children—Miss Katherine, who is engaged in New York with the publicity committee of the Third Liberty loan; Miss Marjorie, who is at home; and Lester, first class electrician, United States naval reserve, Newport, R. I.

Silly and Baseless Rumors.
Danielson constantly is being flooded with rumors that local boys who are in the service, or organizations to which they are attached have met with disaster. Many of these stories gain wide currency, and though they have in every instance proved to be baseless, cannot but cause a little worry among the groups of relatives and friends concerned.

Efforts to trace the origin of the stories are usually fruitless, but they are repeated by many who do not seem to realize that the effect of the stories is very discouraging in quarters where they should be the utmost confidence.

In breaking down the repeating of such dangerous and untruthful reports it has been suggested that persons who hear such stories inquire of those who tell them where they found them and in this way the source of them may be reached and attended to.

A sample of the stories that circulate concerns the railroad wreck that occurred at Pomfret last week. In this case it was reported that a troop train was in the smash; that many soldiers had been killed and that their bodies were being carried out of the wrecked coaches and placed on stretchers. The wreck was bad enough, but it concerned no troops.

Undergoes Operation.
George M. Sampson, of Woodstock, underwent an operation for appendicitis, at the Day Kimball hospital.

George C. Phillips, a former selectman of the town of Woodstock, was reported Wednesday as seriously ill. The matter of having many children of the city plant gardens this spring is hanging fire until it is ascertained whether suitable supervision can be arranged for.

Man on Duty at Headquarters.
Under a new arrangement worked out by Captain Joseph A. Ryan, an officer is now on duty at the police headquarters on Church street all the time from 6 p. m. to 7 a. m. No extra men are required under the plan as it is being operated. The three night men take turns in spending an hour at the headquarters, two men being out covering beats all of the time. Captain Ryan's plan for keeping a man on duty has been highly approved by a number of city officials.

Proper Licensees Required.
Complaints continue to come to the attention of motor department officials that, in various villages in Windham county, men are operating cars as public vehicles without having the proper registration for such purposes.

A quite general practice is that of carrying passengers to and from their work in mills in cars that are registered only for pleasure driving. This is decidedly in violation of the law and will result in prosecutions as rapidly as the cases can be taken care of.

FUNERALS.
Peter Demers.

The funeral of Peter Demers was held from his home on Wednesday morning, with services at St. Mary's church. The funeral was attended by many relatives and friends of Mr. Demers, who was a boxer of merit and who had played athletic games in this city. He formerly lived in Webster.

Daniel Lester Chandler.
Wednesday at noon a funeral service for Daniel Lester Chandler, 54, who was found dead in bed at the home of George Clark in the town of Woodstock, was conducted at the church at North Ashford. Burial was in the North Ashford cemetery.

GOING-KNOWS NOT WHERE
P. G. Wright Emphasizes Phrase on Monument, Now in His 90th Year.

"Going, but know not where," inscribed on the monument that he caused to be erected years ago at Grove street cemetery, was the phrase quoted by P. G. Wright, School street, Wednesday when he was interviewed as to his state of health upon his entry into his 90th year.

Mr. Wright admitted that he wasn't feeling real active as he enters on his 90th year. He passed his birthday a few days ago. Mr. Wright is able to come down town about every day, driving about the city in a rig that is familiar to all, and he finds much to entertain him in the opportunities that his drives about town afford him for talking with friends who come out and stand at the wheel of his wagon while he talks.

He was born in Fitzwilliam, N. H., April 3, 1829, but the great part of his life has been spent in Putnam, where he has been for more than 60 years. For a while he was a resident of Woodstock, and he recalled on Wednesday that his father, who was one of those who went west in the gold rush, died at Stockton, Cal., in October, 1849.

Mr. Wright recalls very clearly the great changes that have taken place in Putnam since he first knew the place.

They thoroughly cleanse and wash out the bladder and kidneys and throw off the inflammation which is the cause of the trouble. Your druggist will cheerfully refund your money if you are not satisfied after a few days' use. Accept only the pure, original GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. None other genuine.

The Lee & Osmond Co. can supply you.

place, and he sighs with regret as he speaks of the many of his friends who have passed beyond.

He looks with complacency at the future, however, and his whole viewpoint is summed up in the terse "Going, but know not where," a line that has won him columns of publicity in some of the biggest publications in the country.

Though he has passed his 90th birthday, Mr. Wright is not a minute behind the times. He reads the war news every day, keeps posted on all the important current events and even keeps in close touch with all the little details that are told of in the press as happening in the far-off connection.

"I have been a reader of the Norwich Bulletin for 60 years," Mr. Wright told a representative of the paper, "and I guess I am about as old as the scriber you have in this part of the country."
